Engaging in think-notice-wonder writing activities at the start of a math class is a great way to ignite student thinking, spark creativity, and build anticipation.

Even if students are not directly engaged in mathematical problem-solving, their curiosity and interest will carry on throughout the day's lesson.

Be mindful that your kids will need some time to get used to these kinds of activities, but after a week or so, you'll be pleasantly surprised by the spike in engagement, boost in student enthusiasm and high quality of responses!
